

A black and white line-art mandala with a central floral motif and the word "December" in the center. The design is highly symmetrical, both horizontally and vertically. The central element is a stylized flower with multiple layers of petals, some of which are pointed and others more rounded. This central flower is surrounded by a ring of smaller, similar floral shapes. The outermost layer consists of larger, more complex floral patterns that resemble stylized leaves or petals, each containing intricate line work. The overall effect is a dense, intricate pattern that fills the entire frame. The word "December" is written in a bold, rounded, sans-serif font across the middle of the mandala, centered over the central floral motif.
