

A black and white line drawing of a waterfall. The waterfall is the central focus, with water cascading down a rocky ledge. The word "February" is written across the middle of the waterfall in a stylized, rounded font. The surrounding rocks are depicted with simple lines, and the base of the waterfall shows some splashing water.

February